

Plexxikon

Kathleen Sereda Glaub

President

Ms. Glaub joined Plexxikon in November 2001 and is responsible for corporate development, including business development, corporate communications, finance, and operations. She has more than 25 years of corporate development and financing experience, including several billion dollars in financing, merger and acquisition, and restructuring transactions. Since joining Plexxikon, she has led and completed deals with Genentech, Wyeth, Servier and Roche, and most recently, the acquisition of Plexxikon by Daiichi Sankyo. Prior to Plexxikon, Ms. Glaub served as an independent advisor to private companies for corporate development and financing. Previously, as senior vice president and chief financial officer of Cell Genesys, Ms. Glaub led a number of financings and strategic transactions, including the spin off and financing of Abgenix and the acquisition of Somatix Therapy Corporation. Prior to Cell Genesys, as treasurer of Genentech, Ms. Glaub led a number of financings, including R & D limited partnerships, a buyout of existing partnerships, and the biotech industry's first convertible offering. Prior to Genentech, Ms. Glaub held various finance and treasury positions with Intel Corporation. Ms. Glaub received her M.B.A. in finance from Northwestern University.
